Margaret Ann Philbrick Caravaggio,
Art, Crime and House of Honor - the Heist of Caravaggio's Nativity

Thursday, June 26, 2025 2:00 p.m. (immediately following the 1:00 tour) Parkway Central Library, Art Department

Award-winning author Margaret Philbrick discusses the rise of art crime in novels and the role of master painter and Renaissance bad boy Caravaggio in her latest thriller. House of Honor made the Kirkus Top 100 Books of 2024 list and received a starred review and 7 awards. Her husband will also reveal the history of why Philbrick Hall is called Philbrick Hall on the main floor of the Central Library.

This program will be held in the Art Department on the second floor. Ms. Philbrick will be signing books after the presentation and a special gift will be available for librarians in attendance. More information about the novel can be found at: www.margaretphilbrick.com

Ms. Philbrick will be a featured author in the Headline Books Booth 1762 Saturday, June 28, 1:00 pm tp 3:00 pm.
